WELCOME FANS

The University of Alabama Department of Athletics welcomes you to Bryant-Denny Stadium for the 2022 home football season. We are grateful to have you here with us and appreciate your support of the Crimson Tide.

While we turn our attention to the upcoming season, let's not forget the notable accomplishments celebrated in 2021. Last year brought on another trip to the College Football Playoff following a win in the Southeastern Conference Championship. The victory marked Alabama's 29th SEC Championship, 10 of which have come via the SEC Championship Game. Our squad then went on to win the CFP Semifinal at the Goodyear Cotton Bowl Classic to advance to our sixth national championship game since the inception of the CFP in 2015. We finished the season with 13 victories, reaching that milestone for an FBS-record ninth time in school history.

Several individual accolades were earned by a number of our outstanding student-athletes, led by Bryce Young and Will Anderson Jr. Bryce was the program's fourth Heisman Trophy winner and also claimed AP and The Sporting News College Football Player of the Year honors along with the Davey O'Brien National Quarterback Award, the Maxwell Award, the Manning Award and Roy F. Kramer SEC Male Athlete of the Year honors, while Will won the Nagurski Trophy and was a unanimous First Team All-American. Jordan Battle, JoJo Earle, Christian Harris, Phidarian Mathis, Kool-Aid McKinstry, Evan Neal, Chris Owens, Dallas Turner and Jameson Williams also were named to All-America and/or All-SEC teams.

In addition to its successes on the field, our football program continued to succeed in the classroom, leading to the ultimate achievement of earning a degree from The University of Alabama. The Tide rolled into the 2021 Bowl season with 18 student-athletes sporting 21 degrees. Since 2013, Alabama has seen 217 degrees earned (graduate and undergraduate) by student-athletes who were still suiting up for the Tide after they graduated. We also posted an NCAA Academic Progress Rate score above the national average with a program record of 997 in the latest report. Incredible job by our team, our academic support staff and our coaches' commitment to achieve at such a high level and set records off the field as well.

In April, we heard seven of our young men's names called at the NFL Draft. Since 2009, Coach Saban's program has produced 113 draft picks, the most by any college football program during that span, while having had at least seven draft picks for 11 straight years (2012 – present). Another extraordinary accomplishment.

As you prepare for the upcoming season, I encourage you to review this Fan Guide and hope that it will serve as a useful resource.

As always, we thank all of you for your loyalty to the Crimson Tide, and we certainly enjoy having you with us throughout the year.

Wilbur Jackson and John Mitchell changed the landscape of Alabama football in the early 1970s. Both were recognized at the annual A-Day game in April of 2022 at Bryant-Denny Stadium.

One of the four Black student-athletes who has won the Heisman Trophy playing football for the Crimson Tide was on the field for the 2022 A-Day game. Just over half a century ago, though, there was disquiet, at least, in a new era of Alabama football. It therefore is most appropriate that their alma mater recognizes these trailblazers – The Integration of Alabama Football: A Celebration of John Mitchell and Wilbur Jackson.

Desegregation of Alabama Athletics had begun with the signing of Wendell Hudson by men's basketball coach C.M. Newton in 1969. True, there had been a few instances of Black walk-ons in football and other sports, but the offer – and acceptance – of an athletics scholarship moved The University from indifference, at best, to commitment.

Then as now, it was Alabama football that was in the spotlight, and head coach Paul Bryant – who as athletics director had given Newton his blessing to recruit and sign Black student-athletes – completed the process that started the diversification in Crimson Tide athletics.

In 1970, a year after Hudson had begun competing on the Alabama basketball team, Wilbur Jackson, a wide receiver from Ozark, took his place on the freshman football team. (By NCAA rule, freshmen were not eligible for varsity competition.)

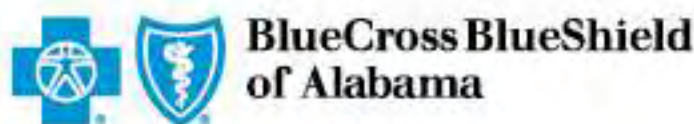

"I think the University offered me a scholarship midway through my senior year at Carroll (High School)," said Jackson. "There was a sense of pride, especially in my neighborhood. Everybody pointed to me and they would tell their kids, ‘Look at Wilbur. He’s doing this, and if he can do it, you can do the same thing as well.’”

A few months later, defensive end John Mitchell, a native of Mobile who had played junior college football in Arizona, joined the Tide in time for 1971 spring football practice.

Prior to the 1971 season, NCAA teams were permitted to schedule an 11th football game. Previously Bryant as athletics director both at Texas A&M and Alabama was able to schedule games against teams with Black players, but at Alabama that had been only in out-of-state bowl games. For 1971 and 1972, Bryant worked a deal to play powerful (and integrated) Southern Cal, first in Birmingham, then in Los Angeles.

The USC series was scheduled, and Jackson had already been signed and was on campus when the first game was played, but he was in the stands with other freshmen not yet eligible to play.

Meanwhile, Alabama was recruiting Mitchell to join the Tide following the 1970 season. USC had also been involved in the recruitment of Mitchell.

“I had signed to go to Southern Cal, and John McKay was boasting that he was going to sign a Black player from Mobile, Alabama,” said Mitchell. “Alabama had never watched me play. They didn’t know who I was. The only thing they knew about me was my name. They looked in the phone book and called every John Mitchell in the phone book until they got my father. He was John Mitchell Sr., so they got my father and told him who they were, and the following week Coach Bryant’s first quarterback at Alabama, Bobby Jackson, drove me, my mom and my dad up to Alabama. That’s when I made the decision to come to Alabama and visit with Coach Bryant.

“As a kid, whether you’re black, white, brown or yellow, you know about Alabama football. I said, Alabama’s John Mitchell (97), a native of Mobile, was an All-American in 1972.

‘If I go to Alabama, my parents are going to have a chance to see me play,’ and that’s the biggest and best decision I made.”

The 1970 game was at Birmingham’s Legion Field, where the Tide frequently played big games. Alabama, all white, was trounced by the Trojans, who were led by Sam Cunningham, a sophomore fullback. In his debut he rushed for 135 yards and two touchdowns as USC was an easy 42-21 winner. Interestingly, in Birmingham, Southern Cal’s backfield was all-Black, reportedly the first time in history for a Division I team.

Following the 1970 defeat at the hands of Southern Cal, 42-21 in Birmingham, the return game to Los Angeles in 1971 would be dramatically different. That Friday night game is remembered primarily for Alabama unveiling the wishbone offense, but there was a major sidebar. When Alabama started the game in the Los Angeles Coliseum to start the 1971 season, Mitchell was on the field, the first Black student-athlete to play for a varsity Crimson Tide football team.

Alabama upset the Trojans, 17-10, and went on to an undefeated regular season and one of the most dominant decades in college football history.

Jackson, who had been converted from receiver to running back to work in the wishbone, did not play in that first game of the 1971 season, but would become a star halfback, All-SEC as a senior.

Mitchell, All-America in his final season, was an Alabama captain as a senior in 1972 and Jackson a captain in 1973.

“When Wilbur, got that scholarship, along with Wendell Hudson in basketball a year before, that was a game changer,” said Ozzie Newsome, All-American for the Crimson Tide in 1977. “That opened it up for all of these young Black athletes that were growing up in the state of Alabama, growing up in the South. Now, that opportunity to go to Alabama was there for us.”

Following his playing career, Mitchell planned to attend graduate school. Instead of extending his scholarship, Alabama Coach Paul Bryant offered Mitchell a full-time coaching job. He served on the Tide staff 1973-77 and has been a coach ever since, including a long stint in the NFL where he is assistant head coach for the Pittsburgh Steelers.

Jackson had a 10-year career in the NFL and has since retired from business in Ozark. The city recently dedicated a downtown mural in his honor.

“If I had to pick out a word (to describe them) it would be courageous, because it took courage to understand the weight of that decision,” said Rashad Johnson, 2008 Alabama All-American and two-time team captain. “I think they were just looking forward down the road and knew this opportunity would be something that would live beyond the game. Here we are today, honoring them and talking about them still, 50 years later.”

A plaque honoring Wilbur Jackson and John Mitchell was unveiled at the 2022 A-Day game.

A man of vision who has an unmatched record of championship success, head coach Nick Saban has taken The University of Alabama to the top of the college football landscape and kept it there with his commitment to building the total program. After the victory over Ohio State in the 2021 College Football Playoff National Championship Game, Saban passed Paul “Bear” Bryant to become the only coach to win seven national titles in the poll era of college football.

Now in his 16th season in Tuscaloosa, Saban's uncompromising dedication to excellence in every phase of the program has resulted in six national championships since 2009. A nine-time National Coach of the Year, Saban has achieved resounding success as a head coach and has earned a reputation as an outstanding tactician, leader, organizer and motivator. Those qualities sparked impressive turnarounds at every stop of his career. Saban's consistent approach and disciplined leadership are the reasons his teams are known for exhibiting grit, determination and resilience, often overcoming adversity to achieve victory.

The 2021 season proved to one of Saban's best coaching jobs, taking a team that lost 10 players to the NFL Draft – including eight in the first 38 picks and six in the first round – and leading them to an SEC Championship. The 2021 squad also used a victory in the College Football Playoff Semifinal at the Goodyear Cotton Bowl Classic to earn a spot in the 2022 CFP National Championship Game for the sixth time in the last seven seasons.

In his 26 seasons as a collegiate head coach, Saban has compiled a 274-67-1 (.803) record, including a 183-25 (.880) mark in Tuscaloosa. His teams at Alabama have won eight SEC Championships while he has 10 SEC titles to his name (2001, 2003 at LSU) to go along with seven national championships (2003 at LSU).

His Alabama teams have posted a 128-13 (.908) record with seven SEC titles and four national championships in the last 10 seasons (since 2012), which is the best of any major-college school over a 10-year span since Bud Wilkinson at Oklahoma in the late 1940s through the late 1950s and his Alabama teams from 2011-2020 (.914 winning percentage). UA's 125 wins in the 2010s were also the most for any FBS school during a decade in the Associated Press Poll era (since 1936).

Since Saban's second season in Tuscaloosa in 2008, the Tide has played just three regular-season games in which it hasn't been in contention for the national championship – the final three regular season games of the 2010 season – a staggering 163 of 166 games, while posting an astounding 176-19 (.903) record, including an 102-12 (.895) mark in regular season conference play.

In Saban's six national championship seasons at Alabama, his teams have gone 21-2 against top-10 opponents, and, since 2008, the Crimson Tide is 35-12 overall against top-10 teams. Alabama has also been ranked No. 1 in the Associated Press Poll for at least one week for 14 straight years, which broke the record of seven established by Miami (1986-92).

The 2021 season saw the Crimson Tide win its eighth SEC Championship under the Saban's guidance with a dominating 41-24 win over No. 1 Georgia in Atlanta. The win earned Alabama its seventh College Football Playoff berth in eight years and a bid to the Cotton Bowl. The Tide dispatched of the Bearcats 27-6 in Dallas before Georgia scored 20 fourth-quarter points for a come-from-behind 33-18 win in the CFP National Championship Game. Alabama finished with a 13-2 record and a No. 2 national ranking that included a 7-1 mark in SEC play.

Sophomore quarterback Bryce Young won the Heisman Trophy, along with the Davey O'Brien Award, the Maxwell Award and the Manning Award. The first-year starter threw for a school-record 4,872 yards and 47 touchdowns while completing 66.9 percent of his passes. Outside linebacker Will Anderson Jr. was a unanimous All-American and won the Bronko Nagurski Award that goes to the national defensive player of the year after setting an NCAA record (since 2000) with 34.5 tackles for loss (-148 yards) and 17.5 sacks (-108 yards).

EXPIRES 12/31/22

Saban has now coached four Heisman Trophy winners, joining Notre Dame’s Frank Leahy for the most in college football history. He is the only coach to ever coach Heisman Trophy winners at three different positions.

One of Saban’s best examples of overcoming adversity was the 2020 season where the pandemic gripped the world and required Saban to not only manage his typical football duties, both on and off the field, but required him to also manage a medical and social environment unseen in college football history.

The 2020 season culminated with a 52-24 thrashing of No. 3 Ohio State in the College Football Playoff National Championship Game at Hard Rock Stadium in Miami Gardens, Fla. The Crimson Tide used a 28-point second quarter to put the game out of reach and claim the program’s 18th national title. The victory added to Saban’s impressive career record of 17-4 in championship games (SEC/National).

The 2020 season saw Saban win the Paul “Bear” Bryant National Coach of the Year for the second time in his career after navigating the Crimson Tide through an undefeated national championship season (13-0) while the world was in the grips of a pandemic. His team became the first in league history to win 10 SEC games in a season, defeating the 10 league opponents by a margin of 32.7 points per game. The Tide then took down No. 7 Florida, 52-46, to capture the SEC Championship. Alabama followed the victory in Atlanta by overwhelming No. 4 Notre Dame, 31-10, in the Rose Bowl, which was played at AT&T Stadium in Arlington, Texas, due to state and local COVID-19 guidelines in California.

A native of Monongah, W. Va., Saban is a 1973 graduate of Kent State University where he earned a bachelor’s degree in business. He earned a master’s degree in sports administration from Kent State in 1975. Born Oct. 31, 1951, Saban and his wife, the former Terry Constable, have two children, Nicholas and Kristen. They have been married for 50 years and are enjoying the company of their granddaughter, Amélie, daughter-in-law Samira, son-in-law Adam Setas and grandson, James.

At Michigan State, the Sabans started the Nick’s Kids Foundation, which they have continued in Tuscaloosa, a vibrant example of their continuing concern for disadvantaged children. Since Nick and Terry arrived in Tuscaloosa, almost $10 million has been distributed to students, teachers and children’s causes at over 150 charities through the Nick’s Kids Foundation.

The Sabans also have played a big role in tornado relief efforts in Tuscaloosa and the surrounding areas. Immediately following the devastating storm on April 27, 2011, Nick and Terry visited shelters where they paid for and served meals to those in need. Through Nick’s Kids, the Sabans joined with Habitat for Humanity in helping to rebuild 18 homes, one for each of the Tide’s national titles.

With support and donations from the Sabans, St. Francis Catholic Church in Tuscaloosa built the Saban Catholic Student Center, which opened in August of 2016. In receiving the 2008 Liberty Mutual Coach of the Year Award, Saban was awarded a $50,000 gift at the A-Day Game. He designated the gift for Nick’s Kids, as well as an additional $20,000 gift for The University of Alabama scholarship fund. In June of 2008, the Sabans announced a $1 million gift to benefit Alabama’s first-generation scholarship program. The gift has a special meaning to the Sabans, as both Nick and Terry were first-generation graduates.

Most recently, the Sabans announced plans for The Saban Center in Tuscaloosa, which create a learning center on the Black Warrior River that brings together the Children’s Hands-On Museum, Tuscaloosa Public Library and the Tuscaloosa Children’s Theater. The Sabans made a personal gift of $1 million to the project and the Nick’s Kids Foundation contributed another $250,000.

ROUND 1

Names such as Shaun Alexander, Cornelius Bennett, Joe Namath, Chris Samuels, Kenny Stabler and Derrick Thomas have starred on the NFL gridiron after their career at the Capstone. The most recent history of the draft has been dominated by Alabama, as the Crimson Tide has produced 41 first round draft picks and 113 total picks over the last 14 years. That total is the most by any program in college football during that span. This past season, the Crimson Tide saw two former standouts go in the first round including offensive lineman Evan Neal (No. 7, New York Giants) and wide receiver Jameson Williams (No. 12, Detroit Lions). Alabama has had at least one player selected in the first round of 14 straight drafts (2009 – present), which ties Miami (1995-08) for the NCAA record for the most consecutive first round draft picks. The remainder of the 2022 NFL Draft saw five more Alabama players selected, including wide receiver John Metchie III (No. 44, Houston Texans), defensive lineman Phidarian Mathis (No. 47, Washington Commanders), linebacker Christian Harris (No. 75, Houston), running back Brian Robinson Jr. (No. 98, Washington) and defensive back Jalyn Armour-Davis (No. 119, Baltimore Ravens).

THE MILLION DOLLAR BAND

The Million Dollar Band has been a Crimson Tide tradition at sporting events and around campus for more than 100 years. Today, the band is comprised of more than 400 members, including the Crimsonettes and the Color Guard. It is the largest student organization at UA. Without this band, the fight song and Rammer Jammer cheer just would not be the same! So why are they called the Million Dollar Band? The group earned its name during a football game in the 1920s. Alabama unfortunately lost a football game to Georgia Tech. After the game, a Georgia sports writer asked an Alabama alumnus what exactly UA have going for them during the game and the alumnus replied, "A million dollar band." You could say the name has stuck ever since.

FIGHT SONG

Yea, Alabama! Drown 'em Tide!
Every 'Bama man's behind you,
Hit your stride.

Go teach the Bulldogs to behave,
Send the Yellow Jackets to a watery grave.
And if a man starts to weaken,
That's a shame!

For Bama's pluck and grit have
Writ her name in Crimson flame.

Fight on, fight on, fight on men!
Remember the Rose Bowl, we'll win then.

Go, roll to victory,
Hit your stride,

You're Dixie's football pride,
Crimson Tide, Roll Tide, Roll Tide!

ALMA MATER

Alabama, listen, Mother,
To our vows of love,
To thyself and to each other,
Faithful friends we'll prove.

Faithful, loyal, firm and true,
Heart bound to heart will beat.
Year by year, the ages through
Until in Heaven we meet.

College days are swiftly fleeting,
Soon we'll leave their halls
Ne'er to join another meeting
'Neath their hallowed walls.

Faithful, loyal, firm and true
Heart bound to heart will beat
Year by year, the ages through
Until in Heaven we meet.

So, farewell, dear Alma Mater
May thy name, we pray,
Be rev'renced ever, pure
and stainless,
As it is today.

Faithful, loyal, firm and true
Heart bound to heart will beat
Year by year, the ages through
Until in Heaven we meet.

ELECTRICITY ON THE QUAD

There is an enhanced power supply provided on the East side of the Quad to support electricity needs of fans. We also added additional power on the Northwest side of the Quad. As such, it should relieve some of the strain put on the electrical power supplied through the light poles on the northern half of the Quad near Gorgas Library. However, the rules still remain for proper usage of the power on the light poles.

During inclement weather, it may become necessary to disrupt electrical service to the Quad and other tailgating areas. UA officials will disseminate this announcement via all communication channels available at the time of disruption. UA will restore power as soon as it can be determined that potential electrical hazards caused by the weather have been minimized.

QUAD POWER INFORMATION

- No extension cords may be plugged into any electrical outlets on any of the on-campus buildings.
- You may hook up a power strip to prevent damage from possible surges, but only one item may be plugged into it.
- The use of multiple power strips or multiple plugs on a single outlet is prohibited
- Only two hook-ups per outlet is allowed.
- Secure electrical cords crossing sidewalks to avoid a tripping hazard.
- Please remove all tape used to secure the electrical cords to the sidewalk when you leave the Quad.
- All auxiliary power will be cut off 1.5 hours after the conclusion of each game with the exception of 11:00 a.m. kickoffs. For 11:00 a.m. kickoffs, power will be cut off 3 hours after the conclusion of the game. All light poles and light towers will remain lit for fan safety.

GENERATORS ON THE QUAD

No portable generators will be allowed on the Quad. Those found in violation will be asked to leave the Quad.

OPEN FLAMES/FIRE POLICY

- Cooking is limited to grills only
- Grills should be set up away from, or protected from, pedestrian traffic and flammable materials
- Grills must be monitored at all times

Extinguish fires thoroughly with water before leaving them unattended. Place extinguished charcoal in designated containers or remove it from campus for disposal. Do not dump charcoal on the ground or in dumpsters. Grilling/fire pits are not allowed in the parking decks.
